IT CONSULTANT WINS TRIP TO JAPAN AT CHARLY T'S

SINGAPORE, 17 February 2010 - Keh Saw Keng never thought that she would be on route to Tokyo, Japan this year when she stepped into Charly T's for her birthday celebration in December 2009.

The 36-year-old IT Consultant was at Charly T's for the first time and had ordered the Charly T's Famous Rotisserie Chicken when she was given a lucky draw coupon to fill in. "I am really surprised! I did not expect to win the trip to Tokyo because I only filled in one coupon! I feel really lucky," says Keh who now frequents Charly T's as she has fallen in love with the Rotisserie Chicken.

Charly T's is a fast casual restaurant located in 20 Handy Road, Level 1 NOMU, which serves up a selection of chicken dishes prepared rotisserie-style and on sticks and skewers, in wraps, soups and salads. Charly T's also features an array of other fresh offerings, including beef, pork and seafood, with tastes that are authentically local to whichever destination the recipe originates from.

Charly T, who is always travelling and curious about different places around the world, their authentic recipes and cooking styles, continues to search and investigate, so that he can share his latest discoveries with his friends upon his return. Charly T also encourages his friends to travel whenever they find the chance, which is also why he has decided to send two lucky diners on their way to Tokyo, Japan.

Keh is rounding up the friends who had celebrated her birthday with her to accompany her on the trip. "I've already been to Tokyo once, but I am definitely going to visit all the theme parks again when I am there this April, and I'll definitely go back to Charly T's again."
